Re: United States v. Puneet Dikshit
21 Cr. 760 (CM)

Dear Judge McMahon:

The Government writes to provide additional information regarding potential immigration proceedings that the defendant might face following serving his sentence. At the time that Government filed its sentencing submission, it understood that the defendant would consent to a motion for a judicial order of removal. The purpose of this order, which the Government suggested to the defendant, was to seek to avoid deportation proceedings and to help to ensure that the defendant's move back to India following his sentence would proceed smoothly. Today, the defendant advised the Government that he would not consent to such a motion.

Respectfully submitted,

DAMIAN WILLIAMS
United States Attorney
